

J. C. SCULLY HERE

J. C. Scully, of the firm of Scully & Cox, local real estate dealers of Torrance, arrived in Torrance Saturday from Oklahoma, which was formerly his home for many years. Mr. Scully, who is the father-in-law of Mr. Cox, came to Torrance to stay and will be in the office of the firm from this date.

Mr. and Mrs. Lichty, of the Torrance Cleaners and Dyers, have moved into the new duplex on Cabrillo recently built by Miss Rothleder.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES TO BE DISCONTINUED

The services of the Episcopal church which have been held in the theatre, have been discontinued for the summer.

Miss Rose Rothleder and her mother have moved into their new duplex on Cabrillo avenue and have as their guests, her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. McKenna, of Ft. Wayne, Ind. Mr. McKenna is the superintendent of the Ft. Wayne Rolling Mills. They are deeply impressed with Torrance and expect to spend several months here.

ERWIN HOTEL

H. G. Eppinger of Vancouver, B. C., is a new comer to Torrance, who is stopping at the Erwin.

T. C. Edwards, road contractor and builder, is here from Ocean-side.

Messrs. Aaron Hudson, Alvin Thompson and Amos Hair of Yuma, Arizona, are comfortably settled at the Erwin Hotel. The young men are employed at Llewellyn's.

Miss Bessie Nelson left Monday for a motor trip through the northwest. Miss Nelson will spend a short time in Seattle, and will drive through to Chicago. She is making the trip alone in a Maxwell coupe.

The east wall of the Erwin building, leased for advertising purposes, is brilliantly lighted with twelve lights, 150 candle-power, and attracts a great deal of attention from P. E. passengers and motorists.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Richardson and family, who have been staying for some time at the Erwin, have moved into the Baptist parsonage, on Andreeo avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Scott of San Diego are recent arrivals. Mr. Scott is employed with the Torrance Electric Company.

Recently here from Santa Maria, E. J. O'Shea is visiting for a few days with friends in Los Angeles.

C. H. Scherrer is entertaining his son, a recent arrival from Kansas.

A two weeks' vacation at San Diego is being enjoyed by George Albershof.

Messrs. T. E. and A. J. Irvin of Redondo are registered at the Erwin.

Miraculously escaping the complete severing of his arm, while at his work at Llewellyn's, Jack Hambar is nursing a badly injured arm.

Three recent arrivals who are fast making friends here are Walter Prokoudin, of Manchuria, Donat Mogulian, of Moscow, and a young friend, also from Moscow. Of a superior intelligence, these jolly boys are working their way through college, and have secured employment for the summer at Llewellyn's.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Marks drove to Monrovia Saturday and were guests of Mrs. Marks' mother, and a picnic in Fish Canyon was greatly enjoyed Sunday.

George Probert, junior, popular young clerk at the Torrance Pharmacy, spent Thursday evening at Long Beach. That isn't news, however, as George is in Long Beach frequently, here of late.

Illustrating Sunday school songs with crayon pictures drawn with the skill and rapidity of the "lightning artist," Rev. Dr. Morris held the rapt attention of the kiddies last Sunday morning, and the undivided attention of their elders, as well.

Mrs. H. D. Pottenger has taken over the management of the Bowden Arms, Long Beach. Mrs. Pottenger is well known in Torrance, where she won many friends when assistant to Mr. Pottenger, former secretary of the Torrance Chamber of Commerce.

Ten little Japanese girls, pupils from the Moneta school, were overnight guests of Mrs. A. G. Solomon Wednesday. During the visit, Mrs. Solomon demonstrated the American ways of cooking and house-keeping. In the evening the little guests attended the prayer meeting at the Baptist church and sang in Japanese, "Jesus Loves Me."

NOTED ARTISTS TO ENTERTAIN NEXT WEEK

Ladies' Guild Secures Talent For One Evening at Church

An unusual treat is to be presented to the people of Torrance by two noted Los Angeles artists, Mrs. Grace T. Bloxham, a reader, and J. Harold Thomas, a baritone, who have been secured by the Ladies' Guild of the Central church for the evening of Tuesday, June 19.

Grace T. Bloxham is an artist who has made her art a part of herself. In her impersonations she becomes the characters she depicts and makes them live before her audience. Her pleasing personality and winsomeness endears her at once to the hearts of her listeners.

A number of humorous selections, many of them in dialect, will be included in her program, all of which has been chosen with excellent taste.

A Welsh ancestry, an Italian Bel-Canto training and an artist's soul explain the art of J. Harold Thomas, soloist of the evening. His rich, baritone voice, velvety in smooth passages and full of fire in dramatic action interprets equally well the touching love-song or the thrilling song of war. His popular program will please because of the variety and beauty of the numbers.

Both of these entertainers come highly recommended by those who have had the pleasure of hearing their concert and the Ladies' Guild is fortunate in having obtained them for this evening's entertainment in Legion Hall.

That twinkle in a boy's Eye means pep—the everlasting enthusiasm of a regular American kid. He's a regular whirlwind, especially during vacation—hiking around, swimming, working some, and playing a lot—all sorts of antics that are hard on clothes.

None can appreciate better than the boy the friendly service of this store just for boys.
